Notice to IBM Customers

October 16, 1985

Price Changes New Licensed Programs

This notice announces increases in Monthly License Charges, Initial License Charges, and One-Time Charges for the Basic License (BL) and Distributed Systems License Option (DSL-O) of selected IBM Licensed Programs.

Notice to IBM Customers

The new Monthly License Charge (MLC) will be effective on February 1, 1986.

The new Initial License Charge (ILC) and One-Time Charge (OTC) will be effective on October 16, 1985, for all new licensed programs for which the customer's order was received by IBM prior to October 16, 1985, and which are either shipped on or before November 14, 1985, or, for additional licenses, if the effective date occurs on or before November 14, 1985.

State and Local Government Customers: Those state and local government customers whose fiscal year begins November 1, 1985 will not be affected by increases to charges until November 1, 1986. For other state and local government customers, the new monthly, Initial License and One-Time Charges will be effective February 1, 1986 (October 16, 1985 for Initial License and One-Time Charges) or at the beginning of the customer's next fiscal year after November 1, 1985, whichever is later.

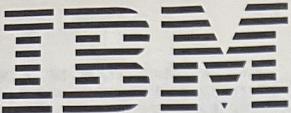

In addition to the above, the following provisions apply to licensed programs excepted under a Volume License Amendment (VLA):

- Programs shipped during the first year of the VLA Contract Period and additional licenses with an effective date during the first year of the VLA Contract Period will not be subject to any increases to the one-time charge in effect on the receipt date of the VLA.
- Programs shipped during the second year of the VLA Contract Period and additional licenses with an effective date during the second year of the VLA Contract Period will be subject to increases of up to 7% of the one-time charge in effect on the receipt date of the VLA.

Following are the old and new monthly, initial and one-time charges. Should you require additional information, contact your IBM marketing representative.

Price Changes IBM Licensed Programs

This notice announces increases in Monthly License Charges, Initial License Charges, and One-Time Charges for the Basic License (BL) and Distributed Systems License Option (DSLO) of selected IBM Licensed Programs.

In accordance with the applicable IBM agreements, amendments, and/or supplements, the effective dates of the price changes are as follows:

- Increased Monthly License Charges (MLC) will be effective on February 1, 1986.
- Increased Initial License Charges (ILC) and One-Time Charges (OTC) will be effective on October 15, 1985, except that such increases will not apply to licensed programs for which the customer's written order was received by IBM prior to October 15, 1985, and which are either shipped on or before November 14, 1985, or, for additional licenses, if the effective date occurs on or before November 14, 1985.

State and Local Government Customers: Those state and local government customers whose fiscal year begins November 1, 1985 will not be affected by increases to charges until November 1, 1986. For other state and local government customers, the new monthly, Initial License and One-Time Charges will be effective February 1, 1986 (October 15, 1985 for Initial License and One-Time Charges) or at the beginning of the customer's next fiscal year after November 1, 1985, whichever is later.

In addition to the above, the following provisions apply to licensed programs accepted under a Volume License Amendment (VLA):

- Programs shipped during the first year of the VLA Contract Period and additional licenses with an effective date during the first year of the VLA Contract Period will not be subject to any increases to the one-time charge in effect on the receipt date of the VLA.
- Programs shipped during the second year of the VLA Contract Period and additional licenses with an effective date during the second year of the VLA Contract Period will be subject to increases of up to 7% of the one-time charge in effect on the receipt date of the VLA.

Following are the old and new monthly, initial and one-time charges. Should you require additional information, please contact your IBM marketing representative.
